County rezones for Arrow

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND - Arrow Rentals, which created a storm of controversy last year by moving into temporary Main Street headquarters, finally has a permanent home.

The Alameda County Planning Commission approved rezoning of a one-acre parcel at 3932 Santa Rita Road which will house the equipment rental firm. The property was rezoned from agriculture to light industrial, which is in keeping with the city's master plan for the area.

In approving the rezoning, the commission made it clear they would like Pleasanton to annex all of the property in the area. The present city limits abut three sides of that area (which extends from the intersection of Santa Rita Road and Tassajara Road) and the fourth side dead ends into Interstate 580.

Chris Beratlis, representing Arrow Rentals, told the commission that owners of "at least six of the 11 parcels" in the area were prepared to initiate annexation proceedings with the city.

The commission also approved a rezoning application which will allow Rhodes and Jamieson to locate its headquarters in existing quarters on its 356 acres outside of Pleasanton.

The gravel firm's headquarters will be located on a seven-acre portion of the property, located on El Charro Road about 2,000 feet south of Interstate 580.

Both recommendations now go to the Alameda County Board of Supervisors for final approval.

Supervisors to choose Valley Center today

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Costs for the valley government center will range from $1.4 million to $2.7 million depending on which site the Alameda County Board of Supervisors chooses at today's meeting.

According to a report prepared by the county Department of Public Works, the Sunol Boulevard "flat land" site would cost $2.7 million, the hillside Sunol Boulevard site would cost a total of close to $1.9 million and the Santa Rita site (which would be on property already owned by the county) would cost nearly $1.5 million.

Last year, the board asked the consultant firm of Ratcliff, Slama and Cadwalader to study alternative sites for an East County Government Center. That firm identified a dozen potential sites and that number was reduced to the three finalists in February.

Site development costs for the three sites are quite similar, between $1.3 million and $1.5 million.

The big discrepancy in the price estimates is due to the costs of acquiring the land. The 20-acre "flat land" Sunol Boulevard site, which is located adjacent to the general civic center area planned by Pleasanton, would cost $1.3 million to acquire.

By comparison, the 53-acre hill site, which is located east of Sunol Boulevard and south of Pico Street, would cost only $371,000 and the Santa Rita site, west of Tassjara Road, would cost $110,000.

The report recommends the supervisors decide on one of the three sites at today's meeting. If the board chooses either of the Sunol Boulevard sites the report also recommends, an option to purchase be obtained for at least a one-year period, and preliminary site surveys be commenced.

The supervisors will also consider the necessity of cutting more than $2 million from its alcoholism, drug abuse and mental health revenue sharing programs because of reduced state funds.

The mental health revenue sharing programs exceed "available funding resources" by $1,474,167, drug abuse programs exceed resources by $283,374, while the alcoholism programs exceed funds by $321,130.

A general report on improving mental health care services in the criminal justice area, particularly at Santa Rita, will be reviewed by the board. A public hearing on the matter has been scheduled for 11 a.m. May 20.

The mental health needs cited in the report are: establishment of a 15-bed psychiatric in-patient unit in a secure area of a county hospital; establishment of a holding unit in the Santa Rita infirmary; augmentation of present staffing; establishment of specialized after-care services; and establishment of an Inter-Agency Coordinating Council composed of representatives of various county departments and other agencies concerned with the problem.

Other items on the agenda include a report on the possible intervention of the county in the Sierra Club suit which seeks to block the widening of Interstate 580; and a recommendation the board designate Zone 7 as the lead agency for water quality management planning for the Alameda Creek Watershed above Niles Canyon.

The board meets at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the Alameda County Administration Building, 1221 Oak St.

Walkout hurting VMH badly, Andrews claims

LIVERMORE - It won't be long before Valley Memorial Hospital "suffers irreparable financial loss" and the public begins to suffer because of the current doctor walkout.

That was the prediction made Friday in a telegram sent to four state officials: Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Assemblyman Leo McCarthy, Assemblyman Floyd Mori and state Sen. John Holmdahl.

The telegram urges "immediate settlement of the malpractice insurance issue through appropriate emergency legislation." It is signed by Tom Andrews, administrator of VMH, on behalf of the hospital board.

The telegram explains: "This recommendation is made on behalf of 80 of our employes who are out of work as a direct result of the current situation. At the moment these working people are the only persons being significantly hurt by the refusal of doctors to practice, and they had no part in creating this situation.

"Emergency legislation shortening the statute of limitations, limiting fees received by attorneys, and allowing all relevant facts to be given to juries can and should be passed promptly.

"Within another several days our non - profit hospital will have suffered irreparable financial loss, and the public at large will begin to suffer..." warns the telegram.

"But we strongly believe that our employes should not have to wait that long to be allowed to resume their jobs."

The doctor walkout has been in effect since May 1, the first day that malpractice insurance rates went through the roof and high - risk doctors especially refused to continue to practice. Although many Valley doctors (and physicians elsewhere in the seven - county area affected) shut down or limited their practices to pressing cases only, anesthesiologists, whose services are essential for operations, said they would assist in emergencies only, effectively cutting off elective surgery for the duration.

VMH is less than half full now and more than a quarter of the work force, especially aides and nurses, are laid off pending a solution to the crisis.

Lori Hickman-your sister should be like her

Lori Hickman is perhaps as unpretentious a teenage miss as you'd hope to meet, with an uncomplicated and sunny disposition to match.

What might seem trite or just downright boring to her peers and jaded adults will likely send her into animated conversation.

She is at once the girl we'd most like having represent our community (if it were put to a vote) and the one you hope the little sister patterns herself after.

It just so happens she's also Maid of Pleasanton for 1975.

Born in Norfolk, Virginia 17 years ago this July 28, Lori and her parents the Richard Hickmans and 12-year old sister Paula have resided in the Pleasanton area for 10 years.She is a junior at Amador Valley High School and the second consecutive high school junior to win the coveted Maid of Pleasanton crown. Her predecessor, Theresa Alexander, was a Dublin junior when she won a year ago.

Typical of this young lady's deportment is the way she presented herself for the traditional interview with the press. She came with fellow Amador student and close friend Kim Vickers, an entrant in this spring's contest who didn't make the finals.

It is to both their credit that they can take such a thing as a beauty pageant in perfect stride and talk about all the special and nerve-wracking moments without a trace of rancor.

For as they readily confided, having nine of ten pageant entries from the same school can lead to an awful lot of jealousies and cool attitudes.

Lori got the idea to enter the Maid of Pleasanton Pageant from last year's runnerup, Kim Wood, now a senior at Amador.

Like alot of girls her age, she talked it over with friends Cathy Gadd and Kim Vickers before deciding to go down to the Chamber of Commerce office to pickup applications Cathy, also a junior, was a runnerup along with Robin Dwyer of Dublin High.

"We decided to enter because you don't want to go to the rehearsals alone. Then you have somebody to joke around with," Lori adds pertly.

"Sometimes, though, cold feelings develop between the girls since they're all from the same school. They kind of go around sizing each other up," she continues.

Kim (Wood) told Lori that it wasn't like that last year because most of the girls were from different schools or were employed.

Both girls, Lori and Kim Vickers, had nothing but praise for the way Marie and Fred Cochran organized the pageant program. Lori thought the song "If They Could See Me Now" was a particularly apropos number....."we all had an equal part in it....we had a chance to move around so we didn't get nervous."

Everything ran smoothly for the new Maid of Pleasanton until the night of the pageant (May 3). "I was late and had to have makeup put on in a hurry. But once the pageant got started you didn't have time to get nervous or have any jealous thoughts boil in your head."

"A beauty contest shouldn't break friendships," Lori states resolutely.

Aside from being up for sophomore princess a year ago, Lori's only other bid for beauty pageant recognition came earlier this year when she entered the Miss Teenage America contest at the valley level.

A plant propagation and gardening enthusiast, she was captain of her school's ornamental horticulture team. This activity involves going to different colleges and helping judge various plantings.

Lori is also an avid swimmer and was a member of the Amador girls team. She has high hopes of learning to snow ski, likes to bike ride and take a turn at being "Joe the gardener."

Like so many other teenagers, she is looking for a summer job (so is Kim) and would most appreciate employment in a nursery or something to do with plants.

Being named Maid of Pleasanton brought her the normal kidding and congratulations from school friends and a "just think, my sister's Maid of Pleasanton" response from sister Paula.

Lori sees the entire pageant experience as well as the duties in the coming year as a "fun experience."

She has already taken to the ribbon cutting and grand opening "circuit" with gusto, perhaps especially relishing the chance to wield a shovel ala "Joe the gardener."

'Day Care Mothers' organized

DUBLIN - Just a year ago, Linda Derby was a lone Tamarack Drive mother and housewife caring for a few kids a week as much to provide playmates for her son, Ray, as to make extra money.

"I didn't take a vacation all summer," she recalls. "I didn't think it was allowed."

Nor did she get any respite when laid up with a cold, or when she would have liked to make a dentist's appointment.

Now, a year later, Linda is running a licensed business with paid holidays, help when she needs it, and the opportunity to save money by purchasing food and supplies in bulk. Best of all, she has the support and companionship of the 16 other licensed day care mothers in the west end of the Valley, and is in touch with "providers" (they no longer think of themselves as "babysitters") in Pleasanton and Livermore.

All this has come about because the licensed day care mothers are now organized and meeting once a month to discuss their common goals, problems — and triumphs, too.

The Dublin women recently had a huge picnic in the Derbys' backyard. The rows of playpens and baby chairs, the chubby toddlers swarming over Linda's blue jungle gym and bright yellow swing set, the five Big Wheels clattering down the walk at the hands of energetic preschoolers, made it obvious that child care is more popular than ever in the Valley and that women are meeting the challenge with enthusiasm.

Linda cares for four children, since she has two of her own and the licensing limit is six for the size of her facilities. Her son, Ray, is three and daughter Denise, six. Then there are Jennie, Chris, Holly and Marie, plus occasional drop - in "guests" just for the day.

The situation is similar for Linda's colleagues. They find about half the children come from one - parent homes, the other half from families where both parents work. Most, like Linda, are licensed to watch children from infancy to six years old, based on the size of their yard and type of toys and backyard play equipment.

Linda's snugly fenced yard features an enormous sandbox, decorated with foot - high letters of the alphabet. Standing inside the home - built sandbox are jungle gym, swings, seesaw and a slide.

Then, there are grass, trees, a shaded patio and an array of bikes and Big Wheels, toy trucks and other items that inspire some of Linda's tiny charges to throw kicking and screaming fits when it's time to go at night.

The 17 women in Dublin who got their licenses like the idea of being able to tell mothers their premises are state inspected. They themselves have to be fingerprinted and they have even their driving records investigated before they are allowed to care for someone else's child.

They keep regular accounts, charge modestly considering their long hours, and serve meals that must be nutritious.

The money isn't bad. "I could live on it pretty well, if ever I were to get divorced," says Linda (who isn't contemplating it.) All the tax deductions she is allowed for house payments, heat, supplies and equipment mean there's not a big tax bite to pay the IRS (What sometimes keeps a sitter from being licensed is fear that reporting her income will mean heavy tax payments.)

Organizing the Valley's day - care providers was the brainchild of Ruth Freis, an early childhood consultant and owner of the Valley School, a private Livermore nursery and elementary school.

Freis organized the first meetings at her school about six months ago, and gatherings have been taking place ever since, although the Livermore group has adjourned for the summer.

There is even a referral number parents may call if they need day care.

Policy readings top board agenda

DUBLIN — A host of policy readings and graduation task force, summer school and building reports head a lengthy Amador Valley Joint High School District board meeting scheduled tonight at Dublin High School.

Trustees convene at their new starting time of 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

Prior to the stack of reports, the board will review a request from the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club for approximately $15,000 from bond monies for improvement of the Amador Valley High School auditorium.

The club has already provided $14,845.29 from the last Mardi Gras for the improvement project but feels, along with the auditorium committee, that the amount is insufficient to deal with the total needsas presented in the panel's report.

Should the action be approved, approximately $30,000 would be provided towards improved stage rigging and lighting. The former would include a T-bar wall, grid (reworked) and three counterweight sets, plus a dimmer (3,000-watt plug), control console, spotlight raceways and second border light.

The estimated costs of these items comes to $26,150.

Reports are forthcoming from Amador High, the graduation task force panel, construction at Foothill High, summer school and the purchasing department.

Press excluded from Barte trial

OAKLAND — Alameda County Superior Court Judge Staneley P. Golde yesterday barred the public and press from the courtroom during testimony by the husband of accused slayer Helga A. Barte.

A motion by defense attorney Albert J. Wax was granted by Judge Golde when Wax called William Barte in the third day of testimony in the murder trial.

Mrs. Barte is accused of murdering her two children, Nicole, 1, and Craig, 6, last Dec. 6 in their 7331 Hansen Drive, Dublin home.

Wax has entered pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, and has waived a jury trial in favor of presenting his case directly to Judge Golde.

Testimony by witnesses last week alleged William Barte had planned to keep young Craig after his wife returned to Germany, but to place Nicole up for adoption.

Helga, a German national, was scheduled to fly to Germany the morning after the alleged murders.

Judge Golde granted Wax's motion on a recent court decision allowing the defense to exclude the public during testimony.

Unless the testimony is ordered sealed at the end of the trial, it will then be made public record.

Gene Marie Oliviera, Craig's teacher at Nielsen Elementary School, also testified at yesterday's proceedings, telling the court Helga had spoken with her the week before the deaths.

Oliviera said Helga had been upset during their meeting, and that she mentioned she would not be around to see Craig grow up.

Dublin attorney D. Ronald Hyde testified that Helga spoke with him the day before the slayings about getting a power of attorney so William could dispose of the family property while she was in Germany.

Psychiatric testimony will be presented today and tomorrow.

Wax expects to close his case following the psychiatrists' presentation, but leaves open the possibility of additional witnesses "depending on (Deputy District Attorney) Tom Orloff's rebuttal."

The prosecution rested its case Thursday; aftert playing a taped interview between Helga and a representative of the district attorney's office.

During the interview she admits to having stabbed Craig then drowned Nicole.

Neighbors Rita Schneider, Mary Ann Duemling and Eva Timbrook told the court Helga acted erratically and mentally depressed before the slayings.

She had spent some time in a Walnut Creek hospital earlier in the year.

Two criminalists, deputies responding to the scene and the physician who performed the autopsies testified at Wednesday's opeining preceedings.

Deputy sheriff Don Hawley told the court Helga acted rationally when she answered the door that Friday morning, but asked to help her children while being transported to Santa Rita jail, and at one point said she "was sorry for what she did."

Commission considers urban reserve zoning

LIVERMORE — Rezoning of about 1,800 acres of major undeveloped lands in the city will be considered at a planning commission public hearing tonight.

Zoning proposed for the land is the newly created open space-urban reserve (OS-UR) designation.

The public hearing will begin at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave.

The idea behind OS-UR zoning, which was recommended to the city by its planning consultants, is to provide Livermore with a tool for interim growth management. The new zoning does not change land use but rather revises procedures.

Such a tool is needed until consultants Grunwald and Crawford have prepared the city's new General Plan. A building moratorium was in effect for the past two years while the consultants prepared the plan but was lifted March 19. The plan should be ready later this year.

City Planning Director George Musso prepared a list of the possibly OS-UR affected lands, recommending five different categories.

The first category, covering close to 60 of the total 83 parcels under consideration, recommends applying the OS-UR zoning. More than 1,000 of the 1,800 acres being reviewed fall into this section.

The second category affects approximately 606 acres zoned open space-agricultural (OS-A). Musso suggests these lands remain zoned OS-A.g Approximately 135 acres come under the third category, which recommends the continuance of their residential zoning for density transfer purposes. The fourth category covers 38 acres which Musso considers inappropriate for OS-UR zoning. He suggests these parcels maintain their existing zoning.

The fifth category merely recommends that any parcels not rezoned should be removed from future city council consideration prior to a council public hearing.

Contrary to Musso's recommendation, Assistant City Attorney Gary Reiners wants OS-A parcels (category two) rezoned OS-UR.

There will be no difference in the impact to the landowner, notes Reiners, but OS-UR would give city council a greater amount of permissible discretion when reviewing a proposed development.

Lands affected by OS-A are north of Hartman and Hartford roads, east of Vasco Road and west of N. Livermore Avenue.

Grazing and farming is allowed on lands zoned OS-UR. Conditional use permits are required for agriculturally-related businesses and services, churches, hospitals, recreational facilities and mobile home parks.

Campaign statements filed

OAKLAND — According to campaign statements filed with the Alameda County Registrar of Voters, Assemblyman Floyd Mori spent $38,000 on his campaigns for the Feb. 4 and March 4 special elections.

His Republican opponent, Guy Puccio, spent $25,600 in his unsuccessful bid for the 15th Assembly District seat left vacant by the death of Carlos Bee.

That spending difference is accentuated even more by the fact that Mori lists a surplus of $4,684.37 while Puccio lists a $10,835 deficit.

The Mori campaign raised almost $60,000 in cash and non-monetary contributions. Monetary contributions totaled $42,773.66 while donations of office space, receptions, printing, etc. totaled $16,845.51.

Puccio received donations totaling $14,245 and non-monetary contributions of $7,683.

Mori received 47 cash contributions of more than $100, (ranging up to $5,000), while Puccio received five contributions of more than $100 (ranging up to $2,500).

Lilly of the Valley

LILLY AULT

"Pam, Pam, are you asleep? Do you think mom will like this?," asked the eldest of the family of his sister Saturday night while mom and dad were out for the evening.

"Have you lost your mind?," replied the thirteen year old.

This is the story related to mom hours later on Mother's Day.

It was a routine Sunday morning in the household. The son of the house awakened early before anyone else to do his paper route. He has been doing this for the last five years. Weekend routine.

Mother was wrong, not too often is mother wrong (try to dispute that and you'll find out) but this morning mother was wrong which she would have admitted if anybody had been around other than her first born.

There he was very engrossed in, of all things, reading the paper. He had performed mother's Sunday duty of picking up the papers. Mother says nothing.Makes coffee. Son says nothing. Mother finally groans some sort of recognition. Son leaves

"Going back to bed," mother says to herself. "After all he has been up for a while, poor little thing. Little? - he now stands five feet six towering over mother,but to mother he's still a "little" boy. That's one of mother's problems. He's now a "young man," but mother never realized this soon enough. To coin a phrase, "mothers are like that, yea they are

This "little" boy, in the next few moments, really opened mother's eyes.

With his sheepish, boyish smile he re-appeared before mother in the kitchen saying, "Mom, these are for you, Happy Mother's Day." A beautiful bouquet of flowers this "little boy" handed to his mother. Oh, they could have been weeds from anywhere but to mother, they were the most beautiful flowers mother ever saw because they came from that "little boy" without any prompting.

Sixteen years later , now a young man who has made his mother proud of him perhaps more than she has expressed to him made being a mother worth every moment of pain, heartache, worry, disappointment, name them all, as a parent you must know.

In a few seconds, a lot of things can flash through a mother's mind. Here now stands a young man who was one of mother's first gifts. A baby boy weighing into this ring of life at nine pounds one half ounce.

Mother's second gift came three and one half years later. A baby girl weighing nine pounds one and one half ounces.

Mother "thanks" God for both of her gifts and the privilege of being a mother.

That, to this mother, is what being a mother is all about. Any female can be a "woman" just because she is female,but it takes talent to be a mother and wife. For a second of tenderness be it from son, daughter or husband, nothing in this world is more precious.

Tom Andrews colors in the first portion of a chart representing $112,000 to be given to the hospital by the Auxiliary over a period of five years.

Hospital auxiliary offers part of pledge to VMH

Carol Andrews, president of the Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, presented a $30,000 check to VMH administrator Tom Andrews yesterday in the presence of 130 auxiliary members.

The check was in partial payment of $112,000 pledged by the auxiliary for a building located behind the hospital which houses office and storage space. The pledge is for five years.

The administrator painted a dim view of the current hospital situation due to the impasse over malpractice insurance for doctors. He said he sees little hope of the resolution of the problem in the near future, and he urged members to write to their legislator.

According to Andrews, the hospital is facing a $6,000 per day loss because of the resulting reduction of staff. Of the 90 beds at VMH normally occupied at this time of the year, only 35 are currently filled.

"At this rate, neither this hospital, nor many others will be able to remain open," he stated.

Other business conducted at the presentation luncheon was the announcement of recipients of the VMH Auxiliary's scholarships, all high school seniors plannNg to pursue a career in health care. Honored were Rikki Boespflug of Dublin High, Jill Borton of Amador High, Ann Kramer and Chris Phelps of Livermore High, and Glenn Kusko of Granada High.

Awards were presented to auxiliary members for outstanding service to the hospital.

VMH public tour tonight

The public is invited to take a special tour of Valley Memorial Hospital Tuesday night to celebrate National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

Those wishing to join the tour will meet at the hospital lobby at 7:30 p.m.

Conducted by the VMH Auxiliary, the tour will zero in on many of the newest and most exciting of hospital activities.Highlight of the tour will be a demonstration of Xeroradiography, a new process which aids in the early detection of breast cancer.

Other equipment to be demonstrated include the foot-operated microscope used in delicate surgery, brain-scanning nuclear equipment, the mobilizer used to gently transfer pathents, the microfilm camera and other monitoring or computer equipment.

During the week community organizations will tour the hospital, and school classes will visit the Family Health Care Center in San Ramon.

Buddy Poppy days May 16-17 support aid to veterans

The poppy has been the symbolic flower of Memorial Day since 1922, and the annual appearance of volunteers selling buddy poppies has been a part of the American scene for generations.

Buddy Poppy days this year are Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17. Poppies assembled by disabled veterans will be sold in Livermore, Pleasanton and Dublin during poppy days by members of the three Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and auxiliaries, and the valley American Legion unit.

Believing that "flowers and eulogies are not enough for Memorial Day," the Livermore V.F.W. Auxiliary No. 7265 suggests that citizens "honor veterans who fought and died by helping the living."

The first beneficiaries of the Buddy Poppy program are the patients in Veterans Administration hospitals throughout the United States who assemble the poppies and ship them to V.F.W. posts and auxiliaries. The compensation they receive from the V.F.W. for their work enables them to buy a few luxuries that make their hospital confinement more tolerable.

The sale of poppies also benefits The V.F.W National Home for children and orphans of diabled veterans. The V.F.W. Rehabilitation Service aids all veterans and their widows.

V.F.W. Poppy Queen this year is three-year-old Lynette Rosenbaum, daughter of Charles Auer Auxiliary member Mrs. Preston Rosenbaum of Dublin. She is the granddaughter of Marvin Gomez, a Purple Heart veteran of World War II.

LHS students in Placerville

LIVERMORE — Two juniors from Livermore High School are attending an environmental conference this weekend near Placerville.

The students are Dave Frank of 1214 North P St. and Mark Lewis, 1462 Lillian. They are being sponsored by American Legion Post No. 47 and are attending the 1975 Youth Environmental Conference at Sly Park Education Center in Eldorado National Forest, May 16-19.

Subjects of instruction include: Watershed and timber management, lumbering, entomology, wildlife management, fire detection and control, firefighting, flood and erosion control, reforestation, geology, natural history, recreation development and management and ecology and environmental changes.

The program is sponsored by the American Legion and will be conducted by the Department of California Forestry.

On hand to discuss careers will be personnel from the U.S. Forest Service, California Division of Forestry, and California Department of Fish and Game.

The purpose of the program is to sharpen the students' awareness of the interdependence of man and his surroundings by exposure to the ongoing business of land management within a national forest and to involve the student in the land use decision-making process. Instead of listening to lectures, students will be invited to see for themselves what is happening in the natural environmental process.

Amador's Dave Potts in an inward dive layout position

Art of diving by local youths

The art of diving was well demonstrated by students in the Amador Valley when local schools gathered at Dublin High School recently to compete in the EBAL championship.

Dave Potts of Amador High School took first place in the competition of Varsity and Gerry Tenborg of Dublin High took second place.

The Junior Varsity had Dave Deheim of Dublin High coming off with the number one spot.

Photos of the event, taken by Doug Ault, junior at Dublin High School, were also taken on a competitive basis. Doug was given two rolls of film to take "action" and "still" shots to show his ability in photography to qualify to be one of the photographers for Dublin High's year book. Doug batted a perfect score, getting a picture with each shot he took. Doug has not heard, as yet, if he has made it as one of the photographers.

Nuclear Initiative makes the ballot

The Nuclear Initiative has officially qualified for the June 1976 ballot, according to Secretary of State March Fong Eu.

The controversial proposal calls for the elimination of the federal liability limit on insurance for nuclear accidents (the Price/Anderson Act of 1957) and for a two-thirds vote by the state legislature that nuclear power is safe.

If the limit on liability is not removed in one year and if the legislators do not endorse nuclear power plant safety within five years, the proposal calls for the gradual elimination of nuclear power in the state of California.

The opponents of the proposition claim that it will eliminate nuclear power in California because the two conditions are very difficult to achieve and, according to the highly organized opposition, unnecessary.

The proponents of the initiative state that if nuclear power is as safe as the power companies claim, removal of the liability limit and approval of the legislature should be no problem at all.

The proposal also calls for the establishment of a commission from a wide spectrum of scientists, engineers and environmentalists to rule on future proposed nuclear plants.

The initiative is expected to generate reams of comment, claim and counterclaim before it goes to the voters in June of 1976.

GE protests fine

Claiming that the newly - formed Nuclear Regulatory Commission's propsed $6,500 fine for violations at the Vallecitos Nuclear Center is "unwarranted", General Electric's Nuclear Division has written a letter officially protesting the fine and requesting that the penalty be lifted.

The NRC, which had no fficial reaction at this time, fined GE for two violations involving four employes in the last quarter of 1974. The employes were exposed to radiation above the NRC limits, but the public health was not endangered.

Claiming that the incidents were repetitive (there have six such occurences, all reported to the NRC by GE, since 1972), the NRC announced the fine in a letter dated March 14 of this year.

GE's protest is based on three points. First, that none of the violations were a threat to health and safety; second, that the occurences were not repetitive and; third, that GE was not in deliberate violation of NRC regulations.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone you'll be dealing with today will anger you. You'll keep it to yourself and smolder, rather than let him know.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't let a disagreement with a pal over something material jeopardize a friendship. Take the loss, if necessary.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If the boss gives you a specific order today, follow it to the letter, or you're sure to incur his wrath.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep your opinions to yourself now about something that does not involve you directly, but does affect a sensitive friend.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone who doesn't operate completely in the open will put some stumbling blocks in your path today. However, don't let him know you're on to him.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Diplomacy and tact are called for in an important career matter or you will anger one whose co-operation is essential now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't take something for repair or service to one you've had problems with before. Find someone more reliable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You tend to be a bit too possessive today with one you're emotionally involved with. Loosen the reins or you'll anger him

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to see and understand your mate's point of view on a vital family issue that he feels very strongly about.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't let yourself be rushed with tasks requiring tools today. What you don't finish can be completed later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is one of those days where you won't be as prudent with your resources as you should. Some loss is likely.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The example you set for your family today is the one they'll follow. If you're cranky and short-tempered, expect the same from them.

Your Birthday

May 13, 1975

You will be much bolder and enterprising this year in situations that could increase your revenues. Substantial returns are probable if you don't take foolish risks.

Here is another Belladonna hand that shows the advantage gained by defender in holding back his ace of trumps. Unlike other aces, that one ace is sure to win a trick whenever it is played.

West opens the three of diamonds against South's four-heart contract. You East Analyze the lead as fourth best from a four or five-card suit. You Review the bidding and assume that South has seven hearts. He also holds at least three diamonds so you can score three diamond tricks if your partner holds the king.

Your first impulse is to play ace and another trump. If you do this declarer will discard his last diamond on dummy's spades and make an overtrick. If you don't lead trumps he will ruff his third diamond. Then what can you do?

Just lead your low trump! If South leads a second diamond your partner will win and play his last trump. Your ace of trumps and 10 of diamonds will set declarer.

All other lines of play will also leave him one trick short. That lead of the low trump has cooked his goose.

Quarter horses go in EBAL Stakes

The quarter horse season starts just a taste on the early side in Pleasanton this year, as a fit field of 17-year-olds go to the post for the running of the EBAL Derby.

Qualifying for Wednesday night's 440-yard main event was held yesterday at Amador High School, scene of tomorrow night's final.

The league track championships, scheduled to begin at 6:00, will feature finals in all but one event, the Frosh-Soph-B two mile, which opened yesterday's program. Jed Morrow, a senior at San Ramon, won in 10:07.7.

Clearly, the centerpiece of tomorrow night's activities will be the quarter mile, where the 50-second wall which has been resisting the contestants all season may finally give in.

Going off at two-to-one, in lane four, is Matt Priewe of San Ramon. Priewe enjoys running the first furlong as if a vicious animal were close behind, a tactic which often results in his traveling the final 110 yards with the track and field figure known as "The Bear" straddling his back, clawing his shoulders.

Tim O'Donnell, also of San Ramon, has said that if given a lane inside his teammate, his chances of victory would take a quantum leap. He will test his theory tomor row.

O'Donnell qualified for the final with 51.3, winning heat two easily from Livermore's Rich Sessions (52.2).

The field's dark horse put in an appearance in heat one, as Bob Gregor of Monte Vista stepped up from a steady diet of 100's and 220's. Gregor came second in 51.2, with Priewe recording a season's best 50.3.

Another matchup took form in the 120-yard high hurdles, where Rich Guttierez of Granada had his 14.9 victory in heat one matched by Jerry Rascano of San Ramon in heat two.

Scott Campbell of Granada was close on Rascano, and was also given 14.9.

Campbell and Rascano will see each other before the highs, however, as they are co-favored in the 330 lows. Each won his heat, each in 40.5.

Six discus throwers moved to the final of tomorrow night's FSB division, Eric Larson of Amador Valley leading the qualifying with a league meet record 135-6.

California High's Craig Cline bounced 20-6¼ and 42-3 1/2, leading both fields by sizeable margins.

San Ramon sprinter Fritz Venker, who will soon be moved to varsity level for mile relay purposes, breezed 52.4 and 23.3 to lead qualifiers in the lower division 440 and 220.

Livermore's Rich Ford literally closed the meeting with three unsuccessful attempts at 12-6 in the FSB pole vault, settling for a well-executed 12-1.

Deliver us from overtime

If God had intended man to play extra inning baseball, he would have put more spaces on the scoreboard.

Dublin High and Monte Vista ignored that tenet a month ago, piling sacrilege upon blasphemy in an EBAL baseball game.

The two clubs staged an 18-inning circus that terminated in a 2-2 tie.

Monte Vista and Dublin will attempt to reach a more definite conclusion as the EBAL enters its final full week of the pennant race.

The Mustangs head into the stretch with a half-game lead over Livermore and Granada. Those teams will attempt to kill each other off today at Granada.

The Monte Vista contest will not be a double header as previously speculated. The 18-inning affair will be concluded next Monday, if it influences the league championship.

John Prieto is a likely choice to pitch for Dublin today, and perhaps he deserves the chance after pitching all 18 innings against Monte Vista the first time. "I couldn't lift my arm to comb my hair the next day," Prieto joked after that marathon.

He threw 207 pitches Coach Tom Mullican never relieved him because Prieto cruised with an average of seven pitches per inning over the final third of the game.

Don Blessen may be the starting pitcher for Monte Vista, with ace Chris Dudley held out for a possible starting shot Friday at Livermore.

Probable pitchers at Granada are Steve Stone and John Janzen.

Gaels get 4th win, 4-1 over Grizzlies

In what could be accurately termed a battle of the oft-beatens, the Dublin High girls tennis team picked up its fourth win of the season yesterday with a solid 4-1 victory over California.

The Grizzlies are now 1-13.

Both of Dublin's top two singles players, Diane Dahle and Stephanie Sibilia recorded easy wins over their opponents.

In what was perhaps the pivotal match of the day, the Gaels' Michelle Chagnen won a hard fought 6-1, 2-6, 6-3 battle over Cal's Myrna Stewart.

While Dublin's Melanie McDavid and Sharon Kennedy won handily in first doubles, it was in the second pairs match that the Grizzlies got their only triumph.

Lee Poissant and Dawn Cook came from behind to topple Dublin's Jill Tobey and Barbara Gray, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Dublin held a total-games edge of 64-36.

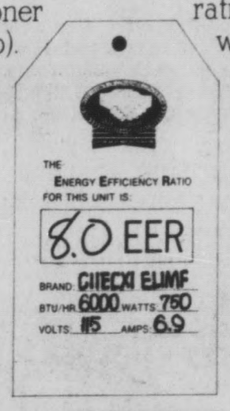
EER EXPLAINED.

The easy way to figure out how to get the most efficient room air conditioner for your money.

We're not encouraging you to buy a new or replacement air conditioner. But if you do, then get a unit that will give you the most cooling with the least electric use. That's an air conditioner with a high EER (Energy Efficiency Ratio). Here's how you determine the EER of a room air conditioner.

EER Simplified: All the information you need is shown on the unit. To get the EER, simply divide the cooling BTUs by the watts. Like this: 6,000 BTU ÷ 750 watts = 8.0 EER. EER numbers range from 4½ to 12. The higher the EER, the more efficient the air conditioner. PG&E recommends an EER of 7 or more for economy in room air conditioners.



EER Simpler Yet: Air conditioner dealers displaying the "We Care" sign have room air conditioners already tagged with the EER rating. So look for the yellow tag and you won't have to do any figuring at all.

What a high EER means to you: A high EER means you're getting the most cooling comfort for your money. Some room air conditioners use a lot less electricity than others for the same amount of cooling. A unit with an EER of 8.0, for example, uses 30% less electricity than one with an EER of 5.6. So look for a high EER. You'll cut your cooling costs. And you'll conserve energy, too.

Is Henry Kissinger the man for our season?

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Dr. Henry Kissinger's usefulness is over. As secretary of state. As negotiator. As foreign policy analyst.

He has wit, energy, charm, confidence and a way with words. But he is so egocentric he is unwilling to call for advice in areas in which he is ignorant.

He is an expert on diplomatic and power intrigue in the Europe of a century or so ago. But he has demonstrated he knows nothing of the military and diplomatic strategy of the Communist world of the 1970s.

Russia, China, Vietnam and their associates are in to the hilt in virtually every current and projected crisis in the world — in the Middle East, Africa, Latin America, Southeast and Southern Asia, Western Europe. And the USSR is building strategic forces which may equal or exceed ours.

Thus the security of this country and of those allies with which our survival is interwoven, depend on our having as secretary of state a man intimately familiar with the ins and outs of thinking in Moscow, Hanoi, Peiping, Lisbon, Pyongyang and Phnom Penh.

But we shall never know, so long as Kissinger is at the State Department, what blunders he will commit out of ignorance, or what agreements he will make based on flawed analysis. For it is now clear he is so specialized in his knowledge of history he is baffled by political systems and strategies not employed in Metternich's Europe.

The difference between Communist thinking and our own is illustrated by a conversation I once had with Nozaka Sanzo, alias Okano, then head of Japan's Communist party. I had known him in Yenan, North China, when that village was Mao Tse-tung's headquarters. "You Americans think of war as war and peace as peace," he said. "We think of peace as an extension of war. We believe it is right and necessary in peace to employ the same deceptions, lies and tricks used in war to obtain our objectives."

Despite what he has written, Kissinger finds this difficult to believe — incredible, considering that the fate of the agreements signed with Communists in Laos, North Korea and in North Vietnam in 1954, are known to everyone who has studied Asia in modern times.

One proof of Kissinger's inability or unwillingness to face reality lies in his pact with Hanoi on South Vietnam, a treaty which duplicated the weakest and worst features of the abovementioned aborted agreements.

Additional proof lies in the SALT I and Vladivostok understandings, so filled with loopholes as to be meaningless in restricting the Russians, yet binding on the United States in crucial ways.

Witness too Kissinger's secret negotiations for a cease fire and compromise government in Saigon. The men from Hanoi led him around and around the mulberry bush, not once, but time and again. Hanoi's strategists asked for the resignation of President Thieu. That accomplished, they upped their demands, called for Thieu's successor to resign in favor of Gen. Duong Van Minh. That accomplished, they asked the removal of all Americans.

Once that was agreed they asked for the dismantling of South Vietnam's military structure, then its administrative structure, then the disarming of Saigon's military forces and police. When one demand was met, another was added — all to Kissinger's complete bewilderment, despite the fact that these salami tactics are standard Communist procedure.

Such a secretary of state is capable of making deals permanently impairing U.S. security.

For new uniforms

Warren Harding, president of the First National Bank of Pleasanton, presents a check for $250 to Amador Valley High School Golden Don band members Charlie Baratta and John Fitch. North Livermore residents meet

LIVERMORE — Northside residents will be talking about their under - representation on local governmental bodies at a meeting Wednesday night in Christensen School.

Dividing up the city into five districts, and electing one representative from each district for city council, school board and Rec District will be one of the solutions offered. That would assure a representative from their remote part of the city on every local board, they reason.

The agenda includes a report and discussion on parks, including plans for the parks planned for the Greenville and Proud Country areas. Discussion of city government and schools will follow, including proposals to turn Green School into a traditional fundamental school. Green is slated to be turned into a warehouse in two years, when a combined kindergarten through sixth grade school is built on the more accessible Christensen site.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. "sharp!" at Christensen School, and adjourns promptly at 9:30 p.m. Free babysitting is offered. Robert DeSimone heads the group.

Chabot author published

Dr. Edward F. (Ted) Staniford, Chabot College History instructor, is the author of a new textbook, "The Pattern of California History," which traces the state's development from the Indian, Spanish, and Mexican influences through Gov. Edmund Brown, Jr.'s inauguration last January.

The book, published by Harper and Row, required five years of research and writing. Dr. Staniford said the book offers a fresh approach, a different interpretation and new topics relating to California history and is distinctive in that it puts California history in national and international perspective.

Dr. Staniford, whose specialty is California history, has been a member of the Chabot College faculty for 12 years. He formerly was research director for the California County Supervisors Association. His experiences also includes administrative research in the office of A. Alan Post, legislative analyst, and a research position at UCLA, where he worked on local government and metropolitan area problems.

He is a graduate of Grinnell College and holds a Master of Arts Degree and a Doctor of Philosophy Degree from the University of California at Berkeley.

A Mother's Pretty Special

Just think of all she does for you and your family. She's irreplaceable and, if she should die, dollars couldn't take her place. But an adequate life insurance policy could help to get some of her many jobs done and to keep your household going. See me about State Farm person to person life insurance. I've got a policy with Mother in mind.
